PRESENT GOVERNMENT ACTS LIKE BURLESQUE, PATTULLO TELLS CLUB

"We desired to look over the orders-in-council, which are the written decisions of the Government of the day, to see what the Government had been doing since it took office," Mr. Pattullo said. "These orders-in-council are not the property of the Government, but the property of the people of this province, and how is one to know what the Government has been doing unless he has access to these orders-in-council?"

He said that he asked Mr. Pooley, but Mr. Pooley refused, so the Opposition moved in the House that any citizen should be able to look over the orders-in-council. The Government said that it refused such permission for strategic reasons.

"I do not know of a single order-in-council that we passed in office that could not be open to the light of day," Mr. Pattullo went on. "There might be certain strategic orders-in-council passed at Ottawa in connection with affairs of national importance, but there are none here."

SUPREMACY OVER LEGISLATURE
"But I can understand why this Government does not want orders-in-council made public. I can understand why they want to keep them private when they want to make private bond sales. It is not that they might imperil the integrity of the state, but that they might imperil the life of the present Administration across the Bay."

"By their decision of refusing access to these orders-in-council, they have made the Governor-in-council sit, supreme over the Legislature, and put us back in this respect to the days of a couple of hundred years ago. Much blood was shed in days gone by over similar arrogance. A very valuable right has been denied that should never have been called into question."

"Toryism has always historically been for the rights of the few and Liberalism grew up as a protest against that and fought for the rights of the people as a whole. This fact was illustrated all through the last session. In each instance the Government of the day was found voting for special classes, while the Liberal Party on every occasion was found supporting measures for the public."

MOSTLY HIRING AND FIRING
"One-third of the orders-in-council this Government has passed to date have had to do with hiring or firing of persons in the civil service. How can men who have been in the civil service for years be happy under conditions when they are hired and fired when they don't know when their heads are going into the basket? It is very much detrimental to the public service of this Province, which this Government has shown towards the civil service."

"You are not going to have a good administration unless you have a good civil service and you are not going to have a good civil service unless you have a good morale. To-day the civil service act has been scrapped."

SHIELLY AGAINST SOCIAL REGULATION

Instantiating the difference in the attitude of the two parties fundamentally, Mr. Shelly referred to the declaration of the Hon. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, that there should be no "paternalistic" legislation and that the Government had already gone too far in social legislation.

"There you have the straight line of cleavage between the Government of the day and the Opposition," Mr. Pattullo went on.

Mr. Pattullo went on to instance the case of the B.C. Electric Co., which came up to provide for the public response. He said the Opposition could see that this might develop into a very large undertaking and so moved that the act be passed should be controlled in the public interest, and for their protection.

"One would have thought it reasonable that the Government should have control over rates, but the Government voted it down despite the fact that five members of the Conservative Party voted with the Opposition," Mr. Pattullo went on.

PAY PROFITS ON PROFITS
A similar move for the protection of the public came up in connection with power utilities, when the Opposition sought that a board should take into consideration in deciding rates, the money prudently and honestly invested in the undertaking.

"But the Government turned this down and now the people of this Province will not only have to pay interest on money invested but pay profits on the profits that are turned back into the company," he said.

He also told of bringing in the amendment in connection with the water power act, so that water powers above 40,000 horsepower could not be alienated without the Legislature passing on each proposal. He explained that in one case a body of 1,000,000 horsepower is being sought. But the Government voted down this proposal for protecting natural resources, although supporters who were waving for it had to be whipped into line to vote for it by a Minister of the Crown rising in his place and announcing that the vote would be a vote of want of confidence in the Government.

NEW PRESIDENT OF LAURIER CLUB

INDUSTRIAL INVESTOR AT DISADVANTAGE
Mr. Pattullo recalled how the Government candidates before the election announced a policy of cutting off succession duties, but when they came before the Legislature all they could say was that they would amend their policy, and then amended the act to exempt insurance policies. This makes it so that a man who puts his money into the development of the resources of the Province now has to pay succession duty, whereas the man who puts his money into a life insurance policy escapes paying the tax.

"The public is suspicious of the private sale of bonds," Mr. Pattullo said. "There is no need for the private sale of bonds, as has been done by this Government and I hope public opinion will so assert itself that the Government will not again dare to sell bonds at private sale."

LET'S EMPLOYER IN BIG JOB
Speaking of Mr. Shelly's appointment as comptroller-general of British Columbia, Mr. Pattullo said, "The principle is bad as the man he put there was a subordinate in private business to the Minister of Finance, and now he is put on the Minister of Finance. Not only is the principle bad, but it is bad taste. When we selected a comptroller-general, we selected a man who had no affiliations here. Now we have a comptroller-general appointed who is an associate of the Minister of Finance, and who every day has to pass on matters affecting the Minister of Finance."

"There is a big difference in viewpoint between the Government and the Liberal Opposition."

LAUNCHING ANOTHER P.G.E.

On the P.G.E. he said, the Government was doing very little. Regarding the granting of a new Canadian Northern Railway charter to Hon. H. L. Stevens, Mr. Pattullo explained that the Liberal policy was the principle that no province railway charter to anyone without first consulting with the two national railway systems and the Dominion Government, so as to remove the danger of orphan railways like the P.G.E.

"But when the Province is trying to solve the P.G.E. problem, they gave a charter to a railway in northern British Columbia which will probably find itself in a short time in a worse position than the P.G.E. Mr. Pattullo went on, "And when they gave this charter, they were not giving it to a railway, but to party henchmen, who were not railwaymen at all. They have no guarantee that the railway would be built and that it would not soon be in an even worse position than the P.G.E."

"They have given this immense railway concession to party henchmen, and you will find these immense waterpowers being alienated by party henchmen, such as this one waterpower which is worth hundreds of millions of dollars. These hungry henchmen have been in the desert for twelve years and are looking around for the oasis of opportunity."

Mr. Pattullo said he had a wager with one of the Ministers that there would be a reorganization of the Government before the next session, and "I am going to win my bet."

This Government would never have dared to treat the civil service in such a ruthless way if it had not changed the Constitution Act, so that Ministers will not have to go back to the people for reelection on the reorganization of the Ministry," he went on.

Mr. Pattullo recalled the criticism made by the Conservatives in the last election campaign and before over the export of logs.

"But yet, what have they done about it?" he went on. "Only two weeks ago they passed an order-in-council allowing the Minister of Lands to permit the export of logs on any terms he might see fit. Whatever we did was treason and whatever these fellows do is patriotic."

CLUB HAS REAL FUNCTION
"It is a privilege to direct the activities of this club for the ensuing year," said Mr. MacFarlane as he took up the gavel and was led to the seat of honor at the head table by Mr. Jones. "We, as a Laurier Club, are in a happy position, as we have at Ottawa a government with an unequalled record in the administration of the affairs of the country, and one that British Columbia should appreciate more than it does. The Liberal organizations and the Laurier Club have a real service to perform for this Province in interpreting that Government to the people of this Province."

A good deal of confusion of thought and misunderstanding has been created by associations such as this can help to clarify. We are making the Laurier Club this year a force in the City of Victoria."

I-FRESH ON VITAL ISSUES
"B. C. Nicholas said that it was important that members of the party should, from time to time, refresh themselves on the vital issues of the day, as was done through the address of Mr. Pattullo."

NOT DAUNTED
"Before beginning the regular business of the meeting and as president, once again I welcome you to the festive board of the Laurier Club," said Mr. Jones in his presidential valedictory. "When addressing the members of the Laurier Club a year ago, I had difficulty in restraining myself from speaking too optimistically of the prospects of the Liberal Party being returned at the general election which was to be held some seven months later. We have had the election, the results of which you all know."

"However, I am pleased to say we are not daunted by defeat, because the principles of the Liberal Party are as great in defeat as they were in victory. We have no reason to regret the defeat of our party as interfering with the soundness of the principles for which it stands. The Liberal Party has always led in progressive thought, and holds out the hope of being returned at the next election."

PASSING OF LEADERS MOURED
"Before proceeding I know that I vote the feeling of the members of the Victoria Laurier Club in making public expression of our regret at the removal of two prominent figures from the public life of our country. I refer to the death of Sir Lomer Gouin, ex-Premier of the Province of Quebec, and of Sir Hugh John Macdonald, the worthy successor of Sir John A. Macdonald. Although possessing divergent political views, they were united in their common devotion to the cause of Canada, and their singularly different contributions to the welfare and advancement of our beloved country, and as fellow Canadians mourn their passing."

Mr. Jones had good words to say of the Liberals in opposition. Their conduct in opposition during the long first session of the new Legislature has been, however, such as to commend their sincerity and general appreciation from every section of the politically intelligent public. Never has an Opposition in this Province been more devoted to the cause of the people, and its aggressiveness was more than partisan hostility. The objective of its criticism was more than party advancement. Its opposition to Government measures was strictly confined to weak and demerits in such measures. Never has an Opposition in British Columbia shown so broad an appreciation of its duty to the people beyond the party in assisting the Government of the day with sound constructive advice so that the business of the country might be intelligently carried forward."

LEADER NOTED FOR EFFICIENCY

"In particular I would refer to our present guest of honor and House Leader, Mr. T. D. Pattullo. When in power he administered his department with an efficiency which won commendation alike from his party friends and political opponents. Even his successor in office, the Hon. Mr. Burden, in explaining his estimate, said that he proposed simply to carry on the lines of his predecessor, and few men could be so much revered by their party as Mr. Pattullo. Mr. Oliver could have driven home more ably and more effectively his necessary criticisms and attacks on Government measures during the first session of his leadership. Mr. Pattullo throughout the recent session showed that, regardless of making political capital, he was determined to work with the construction crew, and not with the wrecking gang."

GOOD SPORTSMAN

"One of the outstanding characteristics of Britishers the world over is sportsmanship. The Briton wherever he is 'Plays the Game.' Whatever the game he plays it hard, and he plays clean and fair. He is a good loser, and it need be, a good winner. In the guest of the evening we have an outstanding example of the tradition of our day to fight even if it be losing battle, to bear the brunt, and to come back with a smile. Together with the former ministers of that cabinet, our guests of the evening, a losing campaign, contested it foot by foot and inch by inch, and though beaten badly during the last session they came back with a smile, and strong, came back with good cheer and feeling, not one downcast expression."

Mr. Pattullo is a good sportsman. Like a true Canadian, he takes victory without elation and defeat with a smile. "I cannot say the words of farewell with which this address to the club without an affectionate tribute to the officers and members and executive of the Laurier Club for 1928. I shall never forget the pleasure of my relationship and official intercourse with the honorary secretary, Kenneth Drury, whose assistance was at all times most valuable." Mr. Jones regretted the inability of W. McK. Ivel, founder of the club to stand for office.

The membership of your club stands at 125, said Mr. Jones.

DEATH OF MEMBERS MOURED

"The club regrets the loss through death of valuable members, Hugh Ferguson, Capt. A. Hawthorne of Galiano and L. U. Conyers, the latter being the club's vice-president and known as one of the stalwarts of Liberalism in Victoria during nearly the last two generations."

NEW PRESIDENT LAUDED

"I cannot let this opportunity pass without extending my sincere congratulations on your selection of president, officers and members of the executive. A casual glance over the membership of the executive will convince all that it is composed of enthusiastic, willing workers who hold the principles of Liberalism close to their hearts. I particularly wish to congratulate the club on its choice of president, A. D. MacFarlane, K.C., is one who fully realizes life affords no higher pleasure than that of surmounting difficulties. In his own profession he has passed from one step of success to another until now he holds the highest position in the gift of the members of his chosen profession, namely, president of the Benchers Society."

THE BUDGET VOTE

THE VOTE ON THE BUDGET IN the House of Commons yesterday is a new indication that the strength of the King Government still is unimpaired. It is true that on the main motion its majority was smaller than usual; but we may assume that the U.F.A. contingent, which voted with the opposition, did so merely as a protest against the Government's failure to support its own sub-amendment pressing for the immediate consideration of proposals to increase the British Preference—a rather unusual form of attack, since one of the most important cornerstones of the Administration's policy is low duties for British goods.

To get a clearer view of the vote, however, it is only necessary to consider the fate of the Conservative amendment, which regretted that the Budget made no provision "for reasonably safeguarding and protecting the interests of those engaged in agricultural pursuits or in industrial employment in Canada." This was lost by sixty-two votes, all the U.F.A. members and other farmer members voting against it, notwithstanding the fact that the Opposition sought to appear solicitous for their welfare. In opposing it, of course, the Progressives of all labels gave notice once again to high tariff interests that they will have none of their tariff policies, that they demand, as the sub-amendment implies, lower, and not higher, duties.

However the manner in which the votes are considered, Opposition members will have to put on a very optimistic front if they want to derive any satisfaction from them. At the same time, it is to be regretted that the Government could not see its way to agree to a full discussion of the proposal which the U.F.A. sub-amendment contained. It was a foregone conclusion, of course, that the Opposition would vote against any new extension of the concession which Canada gives to the British exporter, while its own proposal of more protection for the farmer got the fate it deserved—with the assistance of the farmer members themselves.

There is now left as some consolation for the U.F.A. members the promise of the Prime Minister that his Government proposes to extend the British Preference; but not at present. "Year after year," he said, "we have considered carefully wherein we could extend and increase the British Preference; and I may say to my honorable friends we intend to do that from this time onward." The principle is sound and the Premier will be expected to make good his promise.

THE RADIO COMMISSION

AFTER HAVING THOROUGHLY investigated the broadcasting system in operation in Great Britain, France, Germany and other European countries, the Dominion Royal Commission on Radio Broadcasting is on its way to this coast and will conduct sitting here next week. In broad outline, the inquiry is being undertaken in order that present method employed in Canada may be improved. All the provinces of the country will be visited, and the various provincial governments consulted on the question of regional co-operation.

In the province of Manitoba, it should be noted, the right to operate broadcasting stations is vested exclusively with the Provincial Government. The Quebec Administration is apparently considering a move in the direction of autonomous control of radio broadcasting in that province where the French language is in more general use than English.

It will be recognized, of course, that the immense distances across Canada will have an important bearing upon the general policy which the Royal Commission will recommend to the Dominion Government. It would appear, in any case, that a national broadcasting plan would have to be organized more or less on a regional arrangement. Stations, no doubt, would be established to serve such areas as British Columbia, the Prairie Provinces, Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces.

From views expressed by Sir John Aird, who is chairman of the Commission, and his colleagues were impressed by the service maintained by the British Broadcasting Corporation—the national broadcasting organization under public ownership in Great Britain—and of the Reich system in Germany, where there is national ownership of the transmitting stations with a measure of co-operative state control of the programme organizations. In France and other European countries the commissioners found opinion generally in favor of the establishment of radio broadcasting on a basis of public service, to be operated for purposes of education as well as for entertainment.

It thus will be seen, therefore, that the commissioners will have as examples to guide them the systems of public ownership in operation in Great Britain and Germany and an intimate knowledge also of the system of private enterprise obtaining in the United States. Hence, it ought to be possible for Canada to utilize the most effective features of both and evolve a national plan of radio broadcasting which will give the Canadian public a satisfactory service under all heads.

"LEAGUE OF NATIONS DAY"

TUESDAY OF NEXT WEEK HAS been chosen by the League of Nations Society in Canada for "League of Nations Day" for the purpose of holding a nationwide drive for new members. Victoria will do its part through the local organization, the officers of which hope for more applications for membership. They feel there are many in this city who would like to show their appreciation of the fine work the League is doing by becoming members of the local branch of the Society. These will have an excellent opportunity of enrolling next Tuesday.

The President of the League of Nations Society in Canada is Dr. H. M. Torg, having succeeded Sir George Foster in that position recently, and the list of Hon. Presidents and Hon. Vice-Presidents includes the names of the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition, together with a number of Cabinet Ministers and men prominent in the public life of the country. The objects of the Society, of course, are well understood by the Canadian people; but those objects will not be achieved unless the full weight of the country's influence shall be recruited for the organization.

The preservation of world peace cannot be assured until public opinion discourages governments from pursuing policies provocative of war. There must be the will for peace, not only because another great war probably would wreck our civilization completely, but also because of the utter futility of armed conflict.

There still are those who scoff at the League of Nations, who regard its advocates as visionaries, but their ranks are growing thinner by reason of the new consciousness which the League and its works have awakened among the peoples of the world. The Canadian body has done magnificently. Canadian influence in the cause of universal peace, however, will be determined only by the support which the Canadian people exert in its behalf.

It should be necessary only to suggest the moral argument to win this support. We should be convinced that war can be avoided. We should realize that if we cling to the old theory that because international disputes have led to armed conflict in the past, they always will, we are merely confessing that the world is morally bankrupt, that it proposes still to resort to the ways of the jungle as a means of settlement. Good citizenship in the national or international sense should embrace no such thought. Such of it as lingers in the minds of men and women must vanish as the League of Nations grows in strength and influence.

HOOVER'S MEDICINE BALL

THE VARYING METHODS OF exercise that United States Presidents use to keep themselves in physical trim are interesting to observe.

Roosevelt played tennis, boxed and rode horseback. Neither Taft nor Wilson bothered greatly with exercise. Harding played golf. Coolidge took walks and rode an electric horse. And now Hoover brings out a medicine ball, for years a favorite with professional athletes, and tosses it around the White House lawn. A noteworthy item is the fact that he often invites Cabinet members to join him. Roosevelt's official family, because of the President's fondness for tennis, used to be known as the "tennis Cabinet." Is Hoover's to go down in history as the "medicine ball Cabinet?"

MUSIC IS INTERNATIONAL

THERE IS AN INTERNATIONALism to great art that goes far above and beyond the bounds of ordinary national feeling. When the French republic held funeral services for Marshal Foch, the whole proceeding, naturally enough, were as nationalistic as possible. Foch was pre-eminently a French hero; no one would have dreamed of suggesting that Germans join in honoring his passing.

Yet the funeral music which sounded in Notre Dame and the streets of Paris as Foch was laid to rest was written by Germans. The magnificent funeral march of "Siegfried," written by Richard Wagner, and the great "March Heroique," by Ludwig van Beethoven, were played by French bands, for the funeral of a great French warrior—and no one thought of implying that there was anything incongruous in it.

Great music has no nationality. It is the property of each nation that can appreciate it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The gods of ancient Greece died a long time ago. Even so, however, they must be turning over uneasily in their graves to-day. For the Greek Government is planning on turning the famous Mount Olympus into a national park, modeled on those in Canada. Mount Olympus was supposed by the ancient Greeks to be the actual home of the gods. Now, however, it is to become a haunt of tourists. Hot dog stands, no doubt, will encircle its base, and on new motor roads flippers can spin to the cloud-kissed peaks where Venus, Zeus and Apollo once were devoutly believed to have their celestial palaces!

John Drinkwater, British playwright, arrived in America the other day. Is that a part of the new American dry campaign?

The League for Sensible Clothing decrees the "hatless blousehood" for men this Summer. But there will still be old-fashioned males who will cling to the straw hat.

"The railroads can no longer confine themselves to rail transportation, but must also enter the business of transportation by motor car and aeroplane."—W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

From The Times of April 12, 1904

The septic tank system is a pronounced success in Vancouver, creates no offence of nuisance in operation. It is not costly and the expense of maintaining is nominal and altogether it would meet the needs of Victoria.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Moderate to fresh northerly winds, continued fine and warm, becoming cooler with showers during Wednesday night.

There has perhaps never been any more pleasant voyage completed by the steamship Victoria than that the ship ended last evening when she reached port from across the Pacific. It was the last trip of the steamer under the Northern Pacific flag, and Captain Truebridge says that there was not a day of the run from the time of leaving Yokohama, on March 29, which was not sunshiny.

Victorians need not be informed that a warm wave is passing over this part of the globe. The temperature yesterday was 70 degrees, normally high for this season of the year. This is not confined to this section alone.

A THOUGHT

The days of our years are three-score and ten; and if by reason of strength they be four-score years, yet is the strength labor and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.—Psalms xc 10.

Each departed friend is a magnet that attracts us to the next world, and the old man lives among graves.—Richter.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

A RECORD ELECTION

The Daily Express (London)

A problem that besets all democracies is to get the people to vote. Unless they are sufficiently interested in national affairs to express an opinion when they are asked for it the whole theory of representative government goes by the board. Our system is based on the willingness and capacity of the average citizen, first, to follow public questions with intelligence and, secondly, to cast a ballot at the general election. That is a duty he cannot evade without letting down the country and its institutions.

"WITH SOUND"

The New York Herald-Tribune

In thirty years motion pictures have developed from a kinetoscope picture of a galloping horse or a rushing railroad train to the "super-feature" which costs hundreds of thousands of dollars to produce and often earns many times that sum when exhibited the world around. To-day motion pictures with sound are in the same experimental stage as was the screen in 1899. But millions of capital invested in the improvement of the "talkies" have enlisted alert scientific and engineering brains. Speaking pictures will develop far more rapidly than did the early "movies" for that reason.

A BIG YEARLY SAVING

The Toronto Star

Some figures recently issued by the chief engineer of the United States Government in regard to the traffic on the inland waterways of that country and Government expenditures in improving the waterways should be of interest to Canadians.

The ton-mileage of freight carried on all the inland waterways last year was 93,000,000,000. Of the total, $4,000,000,000, or about ninety per cent., was carried by the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence system. The Government up to date has spent $1,435,000,000 on improving waterways accounting for ten per cent. of the ton-mileage, and only $170,000,000 on improving the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence system. These figures may indicate that the United States has a big "pork barrel" out of which political expenditures are made on fifth rate waterways. Or, which is more to the point, they may show that money spent in improving the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence system yields large returns to the nations using that system.

The saving in freight rates due to the deepening of the channels between the Great Lakes and improving the lake harbors amounts to 220 million dollars yearly, or to a sum much larger than the total spent on navigation improvement on the lakes since the beginning of time.

In view of these and other well-established truths, the reluctance of Canadians to improve the lower section of the great inland waterway system is almost inexplicable except upon the assumption that Canadians are indifferent to their own interests and allow politicians to play with the national destinies.

GERMS

To the Editor—I have read the numerous articles on Germs by "Dora Kitter" and others. The latest to take up the hobby is Mr. S. Green of Millgrove Street.

The inconsistency of these letters is laughable and reflects the ignorance of the writers. They seem to be in favor of the old saying: "There ain't no such thing as a free lunch." The writers have continually played vaccination and inoculation because of the bacteria or germs given in this way. In the same breath they say that germs are the result of and not the cause of disease. Likewise Mr. Green asks about various men swallowing hundreds of thousands of disease bacteria without effect. If Miss Kitter and Mr. Green are so convinced of the facts, let me suggest that we have a demonstration of their sincerity. I will undertake to arrange and finance such a demonstration if the authorities will permit it. With their permission we will use bacteria that do not cause "epidemic" diseases.

If these folks insist on smallpox and typhoid bacteria being used, I shall be just as willing to see the thing through. I am surprised that some one of the medical profession has not put these gossamers in their places. I am afraid they get their information from circulars of unreliable origin.

"The local" writers are just getting themselves before the public eye by false writings, which they do not believe in themselves. Some people crave this form of self-entertaining. I am not a champion of vaccination, but I would submit to it if necessary. My reason for writing is—I do not believe in tearing science to pieces unless I can build up something better and I hate to see such letters written indiscriminately in the daily papers. We all know that medical science makes mistakes, but not many. What would we do without the medical profession? I hate to think of the chaotic condition which would result.

Louisiana Governor Impeached For Acts

Baton Rouge, La., April 12.—The Louisiana House of Representatives yesterday formally impeached Governor Huey P. Long for alleged attempts to bribe legislators, and then launched into testimony on other of the nineteen counts against the youthful executive. The vote was 38 to 40. Specifically the charge is that the Governor offered Representatives Adolph Guimard and Felix de Laune, remunerative employment in return for their support of administrative legislative measures.

The Senate, sitting as a high court of impeachment, heard its committee report on rules of procedure. Under the rules as presented no charges will be tried until the House has filed all charges.

The parts will be stored and re-erected later.

CHANGES IN TARIFF ARE DISCUSSED

With Budget Vote Recorded,
Commons Takes Up Resolutions on Duties

Ottawa, April 12.—With the Government's motion for adoption of the budget carried by 107 to 83 votes, the House of Commons last night went into committee of ways and means and took up tariff resolutions.

As a result of much questioning by Conservative and U.F.A. members, the committee made slow progress. The change whereby sweetened coconut will bear a duty of five cents British preference and two cents in the other schedules, was left over, much information was asked about it.

RECOMMENDATIONS CONSIDERED.—Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative, South Wellington, Ontario, said he was surprised the Tariff Board should make any recommendations to the Government as he had been given to understand it was merely a fact-finding board.

Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance, explained members of the board were called into consultation by him when tariff revision was in progress. He could accept or reject the recommendations made.

In the general discussion, Opposition members voiced criticism of the Consumers' League. R. J. Deachman, who represents that body before Tariff Advisory Board, and the board itself.

FINAL VOTE.—In the final budget division, 107 votes for the budget and 83 against it, all the Liberals, Liberal-Progressives, the two Independents, A. W. Neill, Comox-Alberni, and Henri Bourassa, Labell, Que., H. B. Ashhead, Labor, East Calgary, and L. H. Jeffell, U.F.A. member for Lethbridge, supported the Government's motion. In opposition were all the Conservatives, all members of the U.F.A. group with the exception of Mr. Jeffell; all the Progressive members and J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North, Centre, A. A. Heaps, Labor, Winnipeg North, was not in his seat when the vote was taken.

AMENDMENTS REJECTED.—Two divisions were taken before the vote on the main motion.

The majority against the Conservative amendment was sixty-two. This amendment received its entire support from the Conservative Party. All other members in the House were opposed to the Conservative amendment, which was moved by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, and would have had the House express regret that the budget made no provision "for reasonably safeguarding and protecting the interests of those engaged in agricultural pursuits or in industrial employment in Canada."

The U.F.A. sub-amendment was negated by the substantial majority of 136. Its support came only from members of the U.F.A. and Progressive groups and the two Labor members, Messrs. Woodsworth and Heaps. Against it were lined up the Liberals, Liberal-Progressives, the two Independents, Messrs. Neill and Bourassa, and H. B. Ashhead, Labor, East Calgary. The sub-amendment would have had the House urge upon the Government "the consideration of an immediate and substantial increase of the British preference as a step towards freer trade relations between Canada and other nations."

Discussion of the budget just preceding the vote was carried on by T. Northway, D. M. Kennedy, U.F.A., Peace River; John Evans, Progressive, Rosetown, Sask.; Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative, Fort William; and J. F. Poulton, Liberal, Timiskouata, Que.

LEAGUE DEBATE.—In the Senate yesterday the League of Nations was under discussion. The compulsory arbitration clause of the League and the treatment of minority nationals were debated.

QUEEN ACCEPTS COPY OF CLUB'S PIONEER BOOK

Women's Canadian Club Receives Gracious Note From Her Majesty

Royal Appreciation of Volume on "Pioneer Women of Vancouver Island"

"Lady Cynthia Collier presents her compliments to Mrs. Spofford and is commanded by the Queen to thank her and the members of the Women's Canadian Club very much indeed for the copy of their book, 'Pioneer Women of Vancouver Island,' which they have so kindly sent to Her Majesty. It is evidently a most interesting book, which the Queen is indeed glad to possess, and, in addition, Her Majesty is always warmly interested in everything that concerns the Empire, and, of course, especially its women. The Queen much appreciates the kind thought of the Women's Canadian Club in desiring to offer Her Majesty this attractive gift, which has afforded the Queen very real pleasure."

This gracious note, written from Craigwell House, Bognor, Sussex, where Her Majesty has been staying during the King's convalescence, was received by Mrs. C. C. Spofford, president of the Women's Canadian Club, a few days ago, and was received with enthusiastic applause when read at the club's meeting at the Empress Hotel this afternoon.

Knowing of Queen Mary's interest in the women of the Empire, and feeling that that interest would be particularly keen in the case of the pioneer women, many of whom came from Great Britain in the early days of Vancouver Island's history, the club forwarded a copy of their book to the Queen, asking her gracious acceptance of it in response to which she sent the above charming note, which will be greatly prized in the club's annals.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

A SOLUTION OF "COMPANY" PLAY

Mrs. H. E. M. writes: "Through my children are past babyhood I read your column with great interest every day. I am especially interested in Mrs. M. S.'s little boy who has such a strong sense of property."

"I want to suggest that she provide some special playthings to be used only when he has guests, and which belong to the mother instead of the child. Bright, inexpensive things like balloons, bubble pipes, tiny automobiles and bean bags, and there should be at first, two or more of each kind so there can be no occasion for a quarrel. He will soon learn to associate the sharing with the pleasure of companionship and so learn to share his own."

ANSWER
This is a splendid solution for the problem of the small lonely child who wants company but can never be induced to give up his own playthings willingly. I wonder if any of my readers have ever tried making bags stuffed with paper instead of with beans? These can be thrown around the room, if heavily chuffed, and yet cannot hurt a thing, and are especially interesting to small children, whose sense of direction is still pretty faulty.

ANOTHER IDEA

Mrs. McA. writes: "I have never heard you mention cheesecloth diapers for babies, and I like them so much. They are more absorbent than other types and keep baby drier. Also, they are so easy to wash out and in ten minutes they are dry and ready to bring in off the line. I also use linen mesh shirts which I think are superior to any other kind. I cannot afford to buy these, but made them myself and they proved cheaper than anything I could have bought ready made."

ANSWER
I wonder if you'll write me again telling me how large you make the cheesecloth diapers and how many times they need to be folded. Also, where you got the patterns and the name of the material for the linen mesh shirts. I feel certain I shall be asked by interested readers, and so hope you'll give me fuller details. The cheesecloth diapers ought to be very satisfactory.

Sorry your other suggestions didn't quite reach the mark. Most babies sleep naturally after eating and if they didn't they would spit up all they had taken: if too excited or agitated. We can't mention patented baby foods in our department, but I'm glad you were so pleased with the food.

A Happy Mother:
Thank you for your letter. I employed it. Most of us are so anxious to do everything exactly right with our first babies that we do fail to enjoy them, sometimes, as much as we might. But we take it out on the second or third child. You have been very fortunate in having good and healthy babies. You don't know how blessed you are.

MOTHERS And THEIR CHILDREN

LEARNING TO SING
One Mother says: When our little girl was only three, I began teaching her to sing "do-re-mi" and added a note at a time until the scale was learned. By raising my hands up or down I could help her to understand whether a note was to be higher or lower. Soon I gave her little commands to the tune of the scale. She soon learned to sing the answers back to me. It has helped to teach her to carry a tune and we are proud to know that we have a happy singing little girl in our home.

CUP MATCH

Will Oppose Esquimalt To-morrow Afternoon in Province Cup Match

Mainlanders Bringing Formidable Team; Dockers Will Have Tough Time

In the only senior soccer match of the day Esquimalt will meet St. Andrew's of Vancouver in a Province Cup tie at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 3.30 o'clock. The game will be refereed by Ralph Alcock. In the event of a tie at full-time half an hour's overtime will be played.

Local fans witnessed a Vancouver eleven in action last week when the Hotel Vancouver, champions of the mainland second division, trounced Victoria City, local champions, in a Provincial Cup tie. St. Andrew's are rated a higher class club than the hotelmen and at the present time occupy second place in the Vancouver and District League.

ESQUIMALT TEAM
Esquimalt will field their strongest team but they have lost a number of their matadors and no doubt will have a hard time in holding the crack Vancouver club. David Mesher will be in goal with Wagland and Sweeney as backs. The half-back line will be composed of Homer, Bob Stewart and De Costa, while Burnett, Banks, John Watt, Pepp and Collier will form the forward line.

Victoria City and Royal Oak junior football teams will meet to-morrow afternoon at the lower Beaca Hill grounds in the first game of the series to decide the lower island junior football championship. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

Juvenile games for to-morrow follow:
Division II—Maple Leafs versus Five C's at Beacon Hill, lower ground; Saanich Tussies versus Sons of England, at Central Park.

Kick-offs at 1.30 o'clock.
Division III—Five C's versus Victoria City at the Royal Athletic Park.
Kick-off at 2 o'clock.
The SOE juvenile team will be as follows: Todd, Buckley, Edwards, Johnson, Simpson, Ready, Ward, Hall, Cummins, Price, Bridges, Lambrick and Head.

Jack Wright and Marcel Rainville Defeated in U.S. Tennis Tournament

Pinehurst, April 12—John Van Ryn of Orange N.J., and B. Onda of New York and Japan, will settle the eleventh, North and South tennis championship between themselves today.

Van Ryn and Onda moved to the finals yesterday by eliminating the double-barreled Davis Cup menace from Canada. Van Ryn defeated Jack Wright of Toronto, Canadiana outdoor champion, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-1, while Onda took out Marcel Rainville of Montreal in four sets, 6-1, 6-0, 3-6, 6-3.

The final of the women's singles to-day will be a Boston party. Miss Clara Greenspan and Miss Marjorie Sachs, both Bostonians, won their semi-final matches yesterday.

RAINVILLE WORN OUT
Rainville, Wright's Davis Cup teammate, was worn down and out by the consistency of Onda. The plucky Japanese kept his opponent in the back court, the Canadian's weakest position, and adopted a policy of watchful waiting. He appeared content to keep jabbing volleys back across the net and waiting for the Canadian to smash out of bounds.

Frankie Grandetta Wins Over Holliday

Walla, Walla, Wash., April 12—Frankie Grandetta, Hollywood basketball star, won a popular judges' decision over Harvey Holliday of Vancouver B.C. in a fast slugging match here last night. Holliday dropped to the canvas in the third round, claiming Grandetta had struck him a low blow. After an examination Referee Kaufmann refused to allow the claim and gave Holliday three minutes to recuperate. Most of the fighting was fast with Holliday alternating with Grandetta on aggressiveness but the latter stopped most of the Canadian's blows before they connected.

KILTIES TO BATTLE IN TITLE GAME

Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Will Tackle Seaforths at Willows To-morrow

Rugby Teams Out to Settle B.C. Militia Title; Vancouver Has Fair Lead

In the closing game of the local rugby season the senior Canadian Scottish will clash with the 22nd Scottish Highlanders, of Vancouver, for the Provincial militia-mens' rugby championship at the Willows to-morrow. In the first game of the home-and-home series, the Vancouver squad repelled the invading Scots at Brockton Point, by 11-3.

Since the total points for the two games determine the winner, the locals will have to work hard to overcome the equal-point lead the Seaforths established on their home ground.

EXPECTED TO WIN
"Bob" Travis, manager of the Canadian Scottish, will send his strongest team on to the field and expects them to come through with a win.

On the visiting team, some former Victoria players are expected to be seen in action again. Donny Greenwood, former member of Victoria College, and Vincent Dawson, who used to play for the I.B.A.A., are among the men lined up for the event.

Irrespective of the outcome of the match, a keenly contested game is expected. The whole will be in the hands of Captain Coventry and the same will commence at 3 p.m.

The teams will be:
22nd Scottish Highlanders—Tait, Dack, Greenwood, Hoffmeyer, Thomson, Dyer, Dodge, Dawson, Austin, Forbes, Counsell, Woodson, King, Sutherland and Normington.

16th Canadian Scottish—Kennedy, O'Leary, Campbell, Horne, Kinsman, Reg, Wenman, Tye, Holt, Lamb, Bernard, Forbes, Panning, Wenman, Macmurchie and W. Pollard.

CANUCKSPAY
FATSUM FOR NICK WASNIE

Montrealers Obtain Former Western Amateur From Newark Club

Leo Dandurand Parts With $5,000 and Two Players; Is Right Wing Man

Montreal, April 12.—Hockey is supposed to be over for a few months, but, as usual, there is still some gossip about the game. Further than that, there was an announcement of importance made a few days ago by the Canadian Hockey Club.

It was that another player, so far barely known to Montrealers and with only a few names, had been signed for the 1929-30 season. His name is Nick Wasnie, and he has been purchased outright from the Newark Club of the Canadian-American League.

The deal was completed between Sprague Cleghorn, former Canadian star and present manager of the Newark Club, and Leo Dandurand, managing-director of the Canadian Hockey Club.

Wasnie, a western player, did his first professional season with the Chicago Black Hawks in the first year of their entry in the National Hockey League. He was obtained from the Newark team for $5,000 and two players, to be named by November.

Wasnie was originally an amateur in Western Canada. He is of Russian extraction and had little experience before being signed by the Chicago Hawks.

FARMED TO MINORS
Following his first season in the Windy City, he was farmed off to the minors to gain real professional experience. He was sent to the Chicago Cubs, where he played for a year in the Canadian-American League, and Manager Cecil Hart of the Habianis, after his scouts had reported on the material in that circuit, figured that he was probably the best prospect in the loop.

While in Boston during the N.H.L. series this spring, Manager Hart made further enquiries about the player, and finally became satisfied with his convictions.

With the reports on the man in question during last season and with reports delivered to him while in the Hub, Hart took the matter up with his promoters on returning to Montreal, with the result that the deal has been signed, sealed and delivered.

Wasnie will report with the remainder of the team next autumn here. He is a right wing man of husky proportions. His weight is about 175 pounds. It appears as though Canadians figure their forward line should be a little heavier than heretofore. He will probably be a worthy substitute, it is figured, to Art Gagne.

Pinehurst, N.C., April 12.—Two collegians and a pair of veterans met today in the semi-finals of the North and South amateur golf tournament.

Richard Wilson of Pinehurst and Georgetown University, Phillips Finlay of Belmont, Mass., and Harvard's W. C. Fowles, Jr., of Pittsburgh, former national champion, and George Vought of New York, defending North and South champion, survived yesterday's quarter-finals matches.

Fowles advanced yesterday with a notable victory over John W. Dawson, medalist by a 3 and 2 score. Dawson was runner-up last year and a favorite to win this year.

Vought eliminated Finlay's Harvard team mate, C. S. Eaton of Boston, 7 and 6. Finlay won 5 and 3 from John D. Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., and Wilson defeated B. P. Morrison of Waterbury, Conn., by 5 and 4.

Crack Winnipeg Basketball Team Continues to Win Against Lethbridge

Lethbridge, April 12.—Winnipeg Toilers, Manitoba champions and conquerors of the Regina Balmorals, Saskatchewan titleholders, secured a sixteenth-point lead over the Lethbridge Aces here last night in the first game of the Western Canada senior basketball championship series. The Toilers won the game 33-27.

Owing to a protest of the Toilers that the floor at the Y.M.C.A. was not of standard size, the crowd which had witnessed a preliminary game at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, moved over to the Collegiate, where the seniors started the game. The Toilers' victory was a surprise, as the Aces were considered the favorites.

Boxing Czar Is Now Being
Advocated By Jack Dempsey

Chicago, April 12.—Jack Dempsey, promoter, is advocating a boxing czar.
"What boxing needs to save it from a decline is a supreme head, a man of action and power, like Landis is in baseball," Dempsey said. "To-day, there are too many controlling boxing organizations and none is in agreement with the other." "These bodies should get together. There is much to be done and a supreme head with power enough to make final decisions could life the game up to a higher standard." Dempsey, chairman of the Illinois Athletic Commission, and President of the National Boxing Association, agreed with the suggestion.

Splendid Condition
Of Giants May Give Them An Early Lead

John McGraw's Club Looks to be in Superior Physical State Than Other Ball Clubs of National League; All American League Clubs are Gunning Against Yankees in Order to Stop Them From Getting Away in Front at Start; Detroit Tigers May Benefit in American League by Their Fine Physical Condition.

New York, April 12.—The pleasure, comfort and safety that can be derived from a big early season lead was amply demonstrated in the American League battle last year in the case of the New York Yankees. Without the tremendous lead that had been accumulated when the contestants turned the half in mid-July, the Yankees would have been sunk and the flag of old Connie Mack would be hanging from the mast this year instead of the very familiar colors of Colonel Jake Ruppert.

Even with their big lead the Yankees were able to fend off the rush of the Athletics only on their fighting spirit and it is quite certain that they could not have cut in on the world series dough if they hadn't gotten away well from the wire and hadn't mopped up in the first half of the race.

It was not difficult to ascertain in the Southern training camps that the managers of all the contending teams are banking on the fact that the Yankees will do it through habit and the rivals of the Yankees will attempt it in a spirit of strategy. For the American League men all believe that if the Yankees can be pressed hard all the way from the start they will crack up in the stretch.

GUNNING AGAINST YANKS
All the American League men are gunning against the Yankees, but in the other league there is a flock to shoot at and it has devolved into a question of every man for himself. Something like Bob Jones's policy of shooting against par in match play.

John McGraw didn't say so in so many words but it was quite apparent from the activities in the San Antonio training camp that the Giant leader's primary purpose was to get his men in condition to jump with the gun and get a good lead before the schedule month before the start of the Western clubs. McGraw didn't have to bother much with rookies. His team was fairly well set when the athletes reported and his main job was to get the team in shape.

The Giants were the best conditioned ball club seen in the Southern sector. In fact, they advanced too fast. On the other hand, the opening date the athletes were getting so fine that McGraw called off all work and took the whole bunch down into Mexico and turned them loose for a day. They were given liberty without restrictions in the manner of English rowing coaches who have their men tightened up before the Oxford-Cambridge race.

Three weeks before the season opened, three of the Giant pitchers were ready to go into hibernation. They wanted to go the limit and had to be restrained. "In all my time I never have seen a ball club in better condition," Cracker Schalk, McGraw's chief lieutenant, stated. "Training conditions in Texas are ideal. It is not so hot down there and there is not the danger of a reaction when we hit cool April weather up north. Some of the clubs training in Florida are going to suffer from the effects of a sudden change. The team that is able to stay in the season in good physical condition has a great advantage. Games in April count as much as they do in September. Perhaps more. Because if you get a big lead at the start it has a moral effect on the other clubs."

WILL HELP GIANTS
The physical condition of the Giants may be a tremendous factor in deciding the National League pennant. There is no first-hand information available on the Cubs and the Pirates, but the long trip from California may have soured them. And they were not in good shape to start the season last year. And they can't be in better shape than the Giants.

The advantage of physical condition may also go to the benefit of the Detroit Tigers in the American League. The Athletics are not in good shape and the physical ailments of a number of New York players make the Yankees an uncertainty.

FOUR VICTORIA
ATHLETES WIN
U.B.C. BLOCKS

Four local athletes received "Big Blocks," the most coveted honors in the university sporting world, during the presentation of letters at the University of British Columbia this week. Elliot Player, former captain of Victoria College rugby team, was given his letters for his playing on the varsity senior rugby team. Gavin Drom won blocks on both the Canadian rugby and track teams. Blair Dickson was awarded his capitals for playing Canadian rugby and Art Fell, captain of the track team gained his "B.C." for running.

Blocks are awarded to players who play a certain percentage of games with senior teams in any major sport. They are looked upon as emblems of the highest achievement in the different branches of sport the various athletes pursue.

UPLANDS TO PLAY DUNCAN

Two Teams From Local Club Will Oppose Up-Islanders on Sunday

Two teams from the Uplands Golf Club will engage representatives of the Duncan Golf Club in an interclub match on Sunday. Uplands will send an "A" team up-island, while the Duncan "B" side will come to Victoria to play at the local links.

Fourballs and singles will be played, and keen competition is looked for.

The draw for the match at Uplands with the Duncan players named first follows:

A. Kennington vs. S. C. Trevis.
E. W. Carr-Hilton vs. P. Austin, Captain.
W. B. Harper vs. W. Turnbull.
Walter Whan vs. R. B. Elliott.
Phil Jaynes vs. F. H. Partridge.
J. T. Dryburgh vs. G. R. Nadeau.
C. W. O'Neill vs. F. Levin.
A. R. Mann vs. A. J. Watson.
Percy Chambers vs. L. G. Eastman.
J. G. Adams vs. W. E. Ditchburn.
A. E. Craig vs. A. P. Green.
H. E. Hewitt vs. J. J. Collison.
I. P. Smith vs. N. W. Pirrie.

The Uplands "A" team that will journey to Duncan will be composed of the following players: C. Brynjolfsson, J. Savidant, V. R. Gravin, C. N. Westford, A. D. Radford, R. L. Chaloner, L. Glazan, F. C. Dillabough, R. A. Semple, C. W. Geiger, H. B. Combe and B. H. Aronson.

Gabby Street caught Grover Alexander for one inning in an exhibition game this Spring. Street being forty-five and Alex. forty-two, their working together was termed the "world's oldest battery."

Players in the Pacific Coast League say Jim Keesey, Portland third baseman, is the best at that position in the league.

Bobby Jones on Golf

Although conditions of ground and weather do not affect the playing of golf, a great deal of the adverse effect is caused by the state of the player's mind. A hard wind or a heavy rain inspires in the player a feeling of combativeness or of desperation, and prevents him from going about his business in an equable frame of mind. He is tempted to strive to do a little bit more than he can—to hit a little harder, or to exercise a nicer control. It is only after a lot of experience that one learns that the best results are reached by refusing to regard the elements except as a circumstance to be considered in deciding upon the character and direction of the shot. If we regard them as definite contrary forces which must be overcome they in reality become very powerful enemies.

Walter Hagen last year furnished an outstanding example of what can be done by keeping and using one's head. It was in the second round of the open championship at Olympia Fields. Walter had gone out in 40 and had played the tenth hole only of the incoming nine when he was overtaken by a veritable torrent of rain accompanied by some amount of wind. I had finished only a short while before the storm broke and had reached the shelter of the clubhouse in time. Looking out from my window I could scarcely see through the rain to the tenth tee not over 100 yards away. I naturally thought of Hagen's situation. Out in 40, it seemed unlikely that he could better that figure coming home. An 80 for the round would mean substantial elimination.

PLAY AROUND GREENS IN RAIN EASIER

But Hagen did not do that nine what no golfer in the world can do so well as he. He shut his eyes and his mind to the rain and wind. He thought of only one thing—of getting the ball into the cup—and came back in 33. I saw him afterward and asked him in wonder how he had been able to accomplish the remarkable score. He apparently wasn't quite sure himself—just played golf, which after all is a pretty fair explanation.

When there is only rain to contend with, without wind or unusual cold, the difficulty is almost wholly of the player's own making. Aside from slippery grips and water which trickles down one's neck, there is no reason why even a heavy rain, unless it inundates the course, should offer any insurmountable problem. The wet turf takes a few yards off the drive, but the play around the greens is made out correspondingly more simple. Often it is a joy to putt on a soaked green.

MORE NORSEMEN FOR THE WEST

This photograph was taken at Winnipeg after the arrival of the first immigrant special train this season, over the Canadian National Railway, March 29. There were 205 broad-shouldered Scandinavians in a total of 369 arrivals, which included 22 British settlers. Two trains, which followed the first special a day later, brought the total of newcomers up to nearly one thousand. At least half were Scandinavians. All the immigrants have been placed by the Canadian National Railway's colonization department.

Leaf's Batting Strength—By Jimmy Thompson

The most pronounced weakness of the Toronto Maple Leaf's baseball club is in its batting department. Not one member of the team has yet shown any particular strength along this line.

Pitching alone won't win the International League pennant and Manager Steve O'Neill is reported to be on the lookout for some sluggers to strengthen his line-up, and every effort is being made to get Detroit to release Ruben to the Leafs.

Among those making a good showing on the team are Cote, Burke, Bedore and Sweeney. The Leafs have been depending on Sweeney and Burke for their hitting strength but in exhibition games played so far they have not started anyone with a spectacular batting performance.

where every putt may be struck boldly for the hole.

SOMETIMES MAKE IMPROVEMENT

In 1922, at the Brooklyn championship, during the second qualifying round—saw-came a deluge. When I reached the first green, the whole surface was covered with water and it was necessary to putt with a mallet. Bernhard Darwin, who came over that year as a member of the British team, had returned to the club-house, confident that the day's play would be thrown out. Playing fourteen holes in the rain—I was very pleased with a 72, a stroke better than I had accomplished the day before—in glorious sunshine. But Jesse Guilford, playing immediately behind me, turned in a 70, and Chick Evans, finishing some time ahead and hence playing the full round in the worst of the rain, finished in 74. The fact that all three of us had improved noticeably upon the scores of the day before, and there were many others who did likewise, is evidence enough that the downpour was not a serious handicap.

Many players who have a right to be rated above the average, are quite happy with the game so long as conditions remain pleasant and normal. But a little wind or a drop or two of rain immediately throws them into such a panic that they can by no means do themselves justice. Sometimes their dejection reaches the extent of complaint and protest against a situation which they can in no wise alter. It is, of course, reasonable to expect that unfavorable weather will add a few strokes to the score in the end, but there is no reason to allow a toll of a dozen or more.

PACIFIC PIONEER HERE TO-MORROW

From the United Kingdom by way of the Panama Canal and California ports, the Pacific Pioneer motor liner Pacific Pioneer is expected to arrive at the William Head quarantine station here to-night at 11 o'clock. She will anchor at the station all night and will come alongside the Rithet pier in the morning about 7 o'clock. She has cargo for this port and Vancouver and several passengers for the terminal city.

Marjorie Sachs Is Tennis Champion

Pinehurst, N.C., April 12.—Miss Marjorie Sachs, young Boston tennis star, won the women's singles championship of the United North and South tennis tournament today, by defeating her fellow towns-woman, Miss Clara Greenspan, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Perhaps not this, but within a year or two, Manager Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox believes Ed Durham, eighteen-year-old pitcher, will be a star in the major leagues.

Joe Harris, veteran major league first baseman, is playing with Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League this season.

TRADE ENVOY SPEAKS HERE

G. R. Stevens Tells of Canadian Business With South Africa

Is Now on His Way to Open New Offices in Lima and Peru; More Ships Needed

Thirty-five British Columbia manufacturers are at present sharing in the $2,000,000 export business of Canada to South Africa but British Columbia trade is greatly handicapped by the fact that the only available direct steamship service consists of ships chartered by a San Francisco trading company, G. R. Stevens, former Canadian Trade Commissioner to South Africa said today in discussing Canadian business in the country from which he has just returned.

After five years in South Africa Mr. Stevens has been transferred to Lima Peru and has been touring Canada for several months before proceeding to his new post. He is accompanied by E. Gauvreau who will go with him to Peru as Assistant Trade Commissioner.

Mr. Stevens was an interesting speaker this afternoon at a joint meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association held under the auspices of the industrial group of the Chamber.

ELECTION UPSET

South Africa, he said, was in a fairly prosperous condition and progressing favorably. At present the country was upset on account of the general election and the present indications were that the Nationalists and the South African parties would be returned with fairly even strength. It was generally agreed that the Labor Party, now a partner with the Nationalists in a coalition government would lose out through internal dissension. Labor might gain a few seats in Natal but would probably lose a corresponding number to the Nationalists in the Transvaal.

Touching on Canadian trade with South Africa, Mr. Stevens said Canada shipped annually $1,000,000 worth of goods. Four hundred Canadian manufacturers traded with South Africa, the exports consisting of paper, motor cars, wheat, flour, timber products, salmon, wool, apples and paper. British Columbia's trade was greatly handicapped by inadequate shipping facilities but it was possible that this situation would be remedied in the near future.

OPENING OF HINTERLAND

The development of Africa's hinterland, particularly in the British Colonies and the Belgian Congo, was proceeding far more rapidly than the development of the union. A number of railways were pushing into the Belgian Congo and the next few years would probably see tremendous improvements in those territories.

Mr. Stevens said his tour of Canada had convinced him of its subsequent success. He noted with satisfaction the degree of specialization which had marked Canadian manufacturing plants in recent years, compared with the previous method of manufacturing a variety of articles. He commented on the strides made in the woolen industry and the manufacture of electrical ranges. Canada could ship electric ranges to any part of the world and beat all competitors, he said.

Canada's great handicap, a handicap from which the United States also suffered, was that Canada had no "export men." While Great Britain and other countries had men who would go abroad to sell goods and stay abroad, Canadians and Americans always came home again. Until Canada had a number of men who could do business it would be at a disadvantage.

During his visit in Victoria, Mr. Stevens has been members of the Provincial Government and officials of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. He was a speaker this afternoon at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club. In company with Mr. Gauvreau he will leave for Vancouver tonight and will sail for his new post May 15. He expects to open the Canadian Trade Commissioner's office in Peru before the end of next month.

AID NEARING AVIATORS IN WILD REGION

After being missing for twelve days following a forced landing, while journeying from Sydney to Wyndham, the men were sighted by the Canberra, a plane which had searched the northwestern coast region of Australia.

Brief messages from the Canberra to radio receiving station at Port Darwin, Northern Territory, related the sighting of the missing Southern Cross, famous for its great flight from California to Australia last year.

The Canberra said the four fliers appeared safe and well. Food was dropped to them sufficient to satisfy a want which it was feared had become acute.

FAR OFF COURSE

Captain Holden, piloting the Canberra, gave the plane's position as about thirty miles south of the Port George Mission Station, which is on the Prince Regent River about 120 miles north-northwest of Derby.

This location would indicate that when Captain Kingsford-Smith sent the message just before the plane made its forced landing nearly two weeks ago saying the fliers were about 100 miles east of Wyndham, they were instead hundreds of miles off the path from Sydney to Wyndham, a lap which was to be the first of an attempt to break the flight record between Australia and England. It was assumed no landing was possible in the area in which the Southern Cross was down, and it was presumed to-day a combination of launch and foot parties, guided by aeroplanes would be required to reach them.

SEARCH FOR TWO OTHERS

Meanwhile, Lieut. Anderson and Robert Hittcock have been missing for days after flying into the wilds of Northwestern Australia in search of the Southern Cross.

They have not been heard from since they left Newcastle Waters, in the Northern Territory, about 400 miles from Wyndham on Sunday. The search for them may present a problem every bit as difficult as has been that of the plane just found.

Anderson had a controversy with Capt. Kingsford-Smith after the trans-Pacific flight of the Southern Cross last year and bought a share of the profits in a suit filed in the Australian courts.

HOW STORY WAS TOLD

The brief messages from the Canberra told a dramatic story of the culmination of the days of searching. The first message, at 9:45 a.m. local time, said: "After visiting the Port George Mission we shall search all the bays and inlets as far as Cape Londonderry." (Cape Londonderry is the northernmost point of Western Australia.)

At 11:31 a.m. came the message that the plane had been sighted and food dropped to the crew. That there might be no doubt as to the good news, the message was repeated.

At 11:38 a.m. the Canberra radioed to the Southern Cross: "If you can hear us, walk into open ground." Five minutes later, the Canberra told the Port Darwin Station that "they must be hearing us, but we haven't seen them."

FOUR MEN SEEN

At 12:36 the Canberra radioed: "The Southern Cross is approximately thirty miles from the Port George mission. Can see the whole crew."

Then came another message setting the direction as south of Port George and describing its resting place as a mud flat. Later messages from the Canberra gave the position of the Southern Cross as exactly as the aviators could calculate as on the Glenelg River, near George Water, about thirty miles south of Port George. This position would place the stranded air-men about 120 miles north-northeast of Derby, or about 225 miles due west of Wyndham. It is very near the coast.

The Canberra flew toward Wyndham, sending out another message in which the crew were requested to reassemble at the Port George mission.

STARTED MARCH 30

Capt. Kingsford-Smith, his co-pilot, Lieut. Charles T. Ulm, who shared the honors with him in the flight from California to Australia; a navigator named Litchfield, and a radio operator named McWilliam, set out Saturday, March 30, from Sydney for Wyndham, intending the flight to be the first stage of an attempt to beat Bert Hinkler's record of fifteen days between Australia and England, Sunday, when they should have been nearing Wyndham, a radio message was received from them, telling of a violent wind and rain storm which was forcing them down "one hundred miles east of Wyndham."

A search was started almost immediately in the area of the Drysdale Mission, which is so isolated that its monks did not know of the ending of the Great War until 1920. Authorities of the district expressed the opinion existing weather conditions on Sunday, March 31, would have forced them farther south than Drysdale, so the search was extended in that direction.

Peter Gavuzzi Is Again First To Finish in Derby

Cambridge, Ohio, April 12.—Gavuzzi, of England, again led C. C. Pyle's plodding "pavement pounder" into the twenty-third control-point here to-day when he completed the fifty miles between Wheeling, W.V., and this city in 7 hours 31 minutes and 15 seconds.

EXPERTS ON TRAVEL SAY GREAT YEAR

"Nine special trains will be handled over the C.P.R. system with Shriners from the Chicago temple alone," he said in making reference to the heavy Shrine traffic through Canada after the termination of the California convention.

LAST OPTIMISTIC

"The optimistic outlook on travel is not confined to the West," went on Mr. McPherson. "I was in the East a short time ago, and wherever I went I found everybody keyed up for a great year."

McPherson came here from Winnipeg by way of Portland. He plans to make a trip over the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway as far as Nanaimo before returning East.

LOOKS GOOD

"I have checked up the situation pretty closely on my way West, and it looks good," said Mr. Newman, in speaking of travel during the coming season. "All rail lines are anticipating a big year."

Mr. Newman reached the city from Minneapolis yesterday afternoon accompanied by Wirt Wilson, president of the Wirt Wilson Insurance Corporation of Minneapolis, and J. R. Lenox, president of the Lenox Lumber Company, also of Minneapolis.

The total gross earnings of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, more intimately known as the "300 Line," were last year the largest in the history of the system, said Mr. Newman.

Foundation of National Culture

Two new Canadians from Roumania demonstrate the art of weaving at Regina.

Those who have in the past regarded the New Canadians from Europe as hewers of wood and drawers of water must, after the recent demonstrations at the Great West Festival at Regina, admit that these peoples have, with their native arts, decidedly enhanced the cultural wealth of the country of their adoption. J. Murray Gibson, who sponsored the festival under the auspices of the Canadian Empire Club, says, even goes so far as to say that Saskatchewan and the other prairie provinces have within their borders the foundation of a national culture finer than that of any other nation on earth. To this foundation, the first sod for which had been turned at the previous festival at Winnipeg, all the races which go to make up the peoples of the west have contributed—Icelanders and Irish with their folk-songs and lore, Swedes and Scots with their folk-crafts and dances. Hardly a race known to civilization, old or new, but contributed to the festival some artistry which will make for the further development of that culture which, being national, will be the means of welding to a still greater solidarity, those people who are Canada.

That the movement for the attainment of this end is a popular one was demonstrated by the fact that literally thousands were unable to obtain admission to the exhibits and concerts and that western cities are vying with one another as the site of the next festival.

Reparations Claim In 'I'm Alone' Case

Ottawa, April 12.—The Department of External Affairs has received notification that a claim of approximately $250,000 as reported will be made by the persons who operated the schooner 'I'm Alone' and who owned the cargo of liquor the vessel carried.

The Government here is concerned with the principle involved in the sinking of the vessel and it seems improbable anything will be done in the line of presenting a claim for reparations until the reply of the United States to the Canadian representations has been received. That there will be a claim for reparations is taken for granted, but what the amount will be remains to be seen. If such a claim is made it will probably be filed with the department here for transmission to Washington.

FINANCE PLANS OF C.N.R. BEFORE M.P.'S

Four Steamships For B.C. Service Included in New Construction Estimates For Rail and Other Divisions Tabled in Commons Total $53,750,000

Ottawa, April 12.—Parliament now has before it the request of the Canadian National Railways for sanction for the issuance of guaranteed securities totalling $53,750,000. The estimates were tabled in the House of Commons last night by Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance.

The estimates, which cover the company's programme of construction and betterment, provide for an outlay of $53,750,000 for general additions and improvements on the rail system, while equipment payments amount to $6,313,400. The amounts requested also would provide for a sinking fund.

The management states traffic demands on the water-borne services of the Pacific Coast have increased greatly, and it is proposed to augment the fleet now in operation between Vancouver and Prince Rupert and Alaska, three steamers being proposed for that line and one steamer to operate between Prince Rupert and the Queen Charlotte Islands. The sum set down for the construction of these four steamers is $5,235,000.

The general programme includes laying of heavy rails, some double tracking and grade revision to facilitate grain movements, extension of sidings

ON MAIN LINE

Continuing the policy of increasing the standard of living, 100-foot rails on the main line between Halifax and Vancouver, this work, which has been under way during the past year, will proceed in the Atlantic, Central and Western regions.

In all 916 track miles of new heavy rails is to be provided, requiring the purchase of 100,000 tons at a cost of $5,500,000, including rail fastenings of which amount $1,120,000 is chargeable to capital account. Of the total, 301 miles will be laid on the eastern lines, 334 on the central region, excluding eastern lines, 321 miles on the western region and sixty miles on the Grand Trunk western lines.

The principal sections on which new heavy rails will be laid are the following subdivisions: Bedford; forty-seven miles; Montgomery; forty-five miles; Oba; sixty miles; Viking; seventy miles; Minaki; sixty-one miles; Brule; fifty-five miles.

In addition to new rails of heavy standard referred to in the foregoing, it is proposed to relay rails on various lines totaling 400 track miles. Rails released from principal routes will be used on branch lines and lines where the traffic is of lighter character.

This work will involve a charge of $300,000 on capital account.

NEW BALLAST NEEDED

The plates to a total of 7,400,000 will be required in 1929, at a capital cost of $2,200,000, and 1,350,000 rail anchors at capital cost of $360,000. The capital charges involved in new ballast work will amount to $1,245,000.

The construction of steel bridges, culverts and the replacing of temporary with permanent structures will be continued during the year, requiring a capital expenditure of $2,632,000.

WORK IN VANCOUVER

A work of importance is the continuation of filling at False Creek, Vancouver.

It is proposed to extend local freight facilities at various points over the system, and funds amounting to $2,628,000 are required for the development and extension of terminals and freight yards. Other points affected under this heading include Edmonton, Saskatoon, Kamloops Junction and Port Mann, B.C.

TELEGRAPH EXTENSION

For the extension of commercial facilities for the Canadian National Telegraphs and the development of rail-telegraph service the sum of $2,525,000 is being provided. Part of this sum will be devoted to further extension of the carrier current system.

NEW HOTELS

For the hotel system of the company several important items have been included in the estimates. For completion of the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa, 1,000,000 is being asked. When completed, the hotel will have 352 guest rooms.

Growing to the growing importance of Vancouver, both as a seaport and as a tourist centre, the present hotel accommodations have been found to be inadequate, it is stated, and by the construction of a hotel by the Canadian National Railways, the company will be in a position to maintain much closer business contact with the large volume of tourist and commercial traffic passing through the Pacific city.

Furthermore, by constructing the hotel at Vancouver, the railway is fulfilling an obligation with the city of Vancouver. Preparatory excavation and foundation work was commenced in the Autumn of 1928 and the sum of $2,000,000 will be required to complete all foundation and steel work, which will be completed during 1929 as well protection of the general work incidental to the structure, the whole of which will be completed, equipped and furnished in 1929.

At Saskatoon a start will be made on a new hotel and $300,000 has been allotted for this purpose.

JASPER PARK PLANS

At Jasper Park Lodge, in Jasper National Park, Alberta, new cabins are to be erected in conformity with the general plan, bringing the guest accommodations to a total of 322 persons. For these structures and other extensions the sum of $265,000 has been put in the estimates.

CANADA'S MINING ADVANCE

From a comparatively obscure position in 1900 with a production of less than $65,000,000, Canada is steadily advancing to the front rank of the mineral-producing countries of the world with a total production in 1928 valued at $271,000,000.

For Amazing and Lasting Relief From Middle-Age Ailments That Cause Daily Annoyance and Sap Vital Force

No longer need folks near or past the prime of life put up with those painful and often embarrassing conditions brought on by overworked, sluggish Kidneys, or Bladder Weakness, with their distressing symptoms of Lameness, Pains in back and down through ankles, scanty but frequent and burning urination, Nervousness, Irritability and lack of force, because a few days' test of Dr. Southworth's URATABS will convince the most skeptical of the value of this special treatment for their particular case.

Amazing testimony of Physicians and users gives convincing proof of the power of URATABS to restore Health and Strength to a weakened, inflamed or irritated Bladder and Urinary Tract. A multitude of Urinary troubles, such as, Stricture, Hematuria, Pyelitis, and Prostatitis, and a host of other ailments, are cured within two or three days. No more Backache, no more pain, no more embarrassment or Getting-up-nights. I now sleep soundly, and get up the morning full of pep, thanks to URATABS.

While new to the general public, the enormous value of URATABS has been thoroughly proven by nearly 40 years of successful use in the private practice of Dr. C. Southworth. And now, say, find drugists will supply them on a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Try URATABS today.

Descendants of Abraham Lincoln, who attended there, have provided funds for remodeling the historic New York Avenue Presbyterian Church at Washington as an aid to veterans. At the top of the high steeple a red light will flash intermittently to warn night fliers of danger in flying too low. It is planned to be the only church so equipped.

AT THE THEATRES

THRILLING STORY SAYS THE STAR OF "TROPIC MADNESS"

Leatrice Joy, who is starring in "Tropic Madness" at the Playhouse Theatre, stated that in her opinion "Tropic Madness" is the most thrilling story in which I have worked since "Manslaughter."

Coming from such a source this is praise indeed; but it is said that the thrill drama is worthy of the praise.

Louise Lorraine STARS AS CHORUS GIRL AT COLUMBIA

Making up the eyebrows is the most important trick of the dressing-table to-day, according to Louise Lorraine, heroine of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new picture, "Sideshow."

"Eyebrows," she says, "are most important in registering expression, so should be made up sufficiently to do this. Many girls have theirs too tight. I believe eyebrows should be very plainly seen in detail at twelve feet."

UNUSUAL ROLES FOR STARS SEEN IN COMEDY HIT

Low Cody and Aileen Pringle are the only two players on the screen to-day whose talents could so perfectly match as they do in the film of "A Single Man," a stage comedy hit of long popularity.

In this new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, the co-starring team have an ideal vehicle in which to ascend to new screen heights. And they have given it tremendous acceleration with perhaps the finest performance of their film careers.

The characterizations are far removed from their usual sophisticated poses and show them as whimsically humorous creatures of the everyday world whose troubles and joys are very much like our own.

The stage attractions this week include: Frances Lavare, prima donna, and musical comedy star, the Radio Roamers, a musical singing and comedy team, and Smith and Patrick, two clever skaters and musical performers in a sensational novelty, The Capitol Stage Band under the baton of Chris Wade and Jack Medford.

"TOBY" LEITCH DOES HIS BEST AS SCREEN STAR

Presenting the story of a romance among the hills, Raymond "Toby" Leitch and his collected players will offer "Toby-Hollywood Bound" before four more audiences this week.

Toby has kept the houses in continuous fits of laughter during previous performances and has further increased his popularity with the Coliseum public in this production.

Fired by the sole ambition to become a moving picture star, Toby colors his everyday actions with a melodramatic atmosphere with which he hopes "Toby-Hollywood Bound" will offer a new comedy sensation.

With great versatility, he assumes the roles of John Gilbert, William S. Hart and other Hollywood celebrities. In the country settlement in which he lives, he is treated with a kindly tolerance. Incidentally, while practicing for a wild Western role, he almost shoots off his own toes. However, he finally learns to brandish his guns without either killing himself or injuring others.

Strong in the belief that he is bound to be a romantic actor, or a hero of some kind, he is somewhat crestfallen when a moving picture manager tells him he is a born comedian and has only to act naturally to make people laugh.

Billie, his sweetheart, played by Miss Leatrice Joy, proves a foil for Toby, and with her ready wit gives rise to much hilarity in the play.

The setting for the piece forms a picturesque background for the drama and suggests a truly rural atmosphere.

The plot is exceptionally good and reserves the climax of the piece to the very end.

In every part the cast is well chosen and the different members carry out their characterizations in a most excellent manner.

On the screen is a Russian Revolutionary story, "The Scarlet Lady," starring Lya de Putti and Don Alvarado. The plot is woven about the intrigues of a young woman who rises to power during the revolution, but relinquishes her hold over the bolshevik leader through her love for an aristocratic prince.

AS "LONE WOLF" BERT LYTELL HAS LEAD IN TALKIE

After witnessing a showing of "The Lone Wolf's Daughter," a sound and talking production, now at the Dominion Theatre, it is easy to understand the reason why Bert Lytell has won such tremendous popularity in the role of Michael Lanyard and why film lovers are constantly demanding more "Lone Wolf" productions.

"The Lone Wolf's Daughter" is perhaps the best of the Louis Joseph Vance novels so far pictured. It relates the adventures and love affair of the "Lone Wolf" after he has adopted a daughter. He is anxious to see her married to a wealthy youth and this endeavor makes him the prey of a pair of international crooks. He is constantly playing strategy against cunning and thwarting them at every turn in the game.

The suspense and mystery is well sustained. Thrills are plentiful and on nearly every occasion they end with a surprise entirely unexpected by the audience. The direction is clever. Each scene blends into the succeeding sequence in a most natural manner and in several places human interest touches have been introduced in masterly style. Albert S. Rogell is responsible for the direction and James Van Trees for the camera work. A number of novel photographic effects and a television in operation have been included in the action.

PLANS MADE FOR ST. GEORGE'S DAY

Citizens Asked to Wear Red Flower in Honor of Motherland

The annual banquet in commemoration of St. George's Day—the old English Festival of St. George, and anniversary of the birth and death of Shakespeare will be celebrated on April 23.

Distinguished speakers will speak to the toast of the day, and patriotic songs will be sung by special artists. The guests will be provided with song sheets in order to join in the singing. The bard of the society, "Kilbee Gordon," will read a poem on "Home," composed for the occasion.

The orchestra of the society, under the direction of Mrs. Lucy Boward, Mus. Bac., will give selections. The choir boys of Christ Church Cathedral, under the direction of Harold Davis, will render two numbers, entitled "The Love of Richmond Hill" and "Who Is Sylvia."

Reservations will be made for parties if they will kindly notify the secretary, Alfred Hallam. A record attendance is expected, and reservations should be made at once.

Divine service will be held at Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday evening, April 21, when a patriotic sermon will be delivered by the honorary president of the society, Dean C. S. Quinlan. The banners and flags of the society will be carried in the church parade.

A request is made that the citizens will give special remembrance to St. George's Day by wearing a rose, or red flower in honor of the Motherland, England.

22 Karat Soap

JUST as it is possible to fashion a "gold" ring from part gold and part baser metals . . . so is it possible to make a soap from part pure soap and part substitutes. The karat mark on the ring tells you of its purity, but what mark is there on soaps to guarantee their purity?

With Sunlight soap . . . the "karat" mark of purity is on every bar. It reads: "Guaranteed Pure and to Contain no Adulterant Whatsoever."

Sunlight is the only laundry soap with a standing guarantee that it is all pure soap. Being pure, Sunlight dissolves readily . . . forming plenty of suds very quickly . . . suds which are lively and lasting. They wash more clothes beautifully clean without harm to fabric or colour . . . and Sunlight's pure, gentle suds never could roughen or hurt your hands.

Because Sunlight is all pure soap, it is the most economical . . . bar for bar it washes more clothes than common soap.

MAKE GRANTS TO FLOWER DISPLAY

Government and Municipalities Recognize Horticultural Society's Work

The importance of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Society's Spring Flower Show to Greater Victoria has been recognized by grants from the Provincial Government, the city, Oak Bay and Saanich, officials of the organization announced today.

The Government made a grant of $250, the city $50, Oak Bay $100 and Saanich $100 towards the show which will be held at the Willows April 20 and 21.

These contributions are very gratifying, not only as they make it possible to arrange a show which should be easily the best ever held on Vancouver Island, but also because they indicate official recognition of the efforts of the society to encourage commercial horticulture and master gardening," said P. R. Leighton, secretary of the Horticultural Society.

"The work the society is doing, apart from its aesthetic value, has a very practical side, for Victoria's gardens form some of its most valuable attractions to tourists. And in addition, of course, the society is achieving excellent results in the encouragement of commercial horticulture, which will some day be a very large industry on Vancouver Island. It is gratifying to know that provincial and municipal governments recognize these efforts."

Acted as master of ceremonies for the five hundred, while Mr. Pennington had charge of the bridge play. Prizes for bridge were won by Mr. and Mrs. Matheson, while Mrs. W. M. Brown and C. Gummeson carried off the honors in the five hundred. The consolation in bridge were awarded to Miss E. Scott and Capt. James, while Mrs. Bester and Mr. Bosworth held the low score in five hundred. Refreshments were served by members of the Women's Auxiliary. Visitors notified from Langford were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Sparks, Mrs. J. M. Ritchie, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Mesher and Miss Savory. Lutton and Happy Valley guests included Mr. and Mrs. Trace, Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, Mesdames Baxter, Brown, Madders and Ruddle.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gummeson and little daughter, who have been spending the winter in Colwood, have returned to their home at Gabri, Sask.

Mrs. E. Britton has left for her home at Swift Current, Sask.

Service will be held in St. John's church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. The anthem, "King of Kings," rendered by the choir on Easter Sunday, will be repeated.

A NEW BOOT

for Farmers and their Sons

"Blutip" work boots are made with, or without toe caps, with single or double soles.

THE "Lecotan" sole of the "Blutip" makes it an ideal work boot for farmers as well as all other outside workers.

"Blutip" is the lightest work boot on the market, yet it wears almost twice as long as ordinary work boots. It is made entirely from Western Canadian hides. The sole is double tanned by the "Lecotan" re-tan process, a mineral tanning which congeals the leather, making it more durable and longer wearing. The "Lecotan" sole is flexible and lively, keeping the feet comfortable and free from tiredness.

"Blutip" work boots are of exceptional quality, very moderately priced. They will repay their purchasers with better comfort and unusually long wear.

There are "Blutip" Boots for Boys, too—watch for the blue sole tip and the "Lecotan" stamp on the sole.

"Blutip" is an all Western Canadian product by

James Island

Mrs. T. Robb and her daughter, Eleanor, have returned home from their visit to her parents at Nanaimo.

Mrs. Isiah Dixon and family have left for their home in Nanaimo after spending the holidays here.

Mrs. W. Milsted is a patient at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria.

Mr. Sewell, Victoria, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sells over the holidays.

At the weekly progressive bridge game in the Moore Club on Friday the prizes were won by Mrs. W. Rivers, A. Irwin and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kirk.

Much sympathy is expressed for Fred Fields, who has suffered bereavement in the loss of a sister.

Miss Cowden has returned home after spending a week visiting friends at Nanaimo.

Six tables of bridge and four tables of five hundred took part in the card party held Thursday of last week under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid.

Miss M. Allen, Mrs. J. Thompson, Mrs. T. Robb, Mrs. J. Bowker and Mrs. A. Emmens donated the prizes. Mrs. J. Thompson and Mrs. W. Bond and assistants served refreshments at the end of the game.

The prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. J. Sanders, Mr. G. M. Richards, Mrs. W. J. Van-Norman and Mr. W. Rivers, and for five hundred by Mrs. R. Troupe, Mrs. G. Goldie, Mr. Sewell and Mr. B. Troupe. Dudley Miller was the winner of the decorated cake, made and donated by Mrs. W. Bond. After supper the company enjoyed dancing.

Miss Hester Richards, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Richards, has returned to Anyox, where she is a school teacher.

FOUR BUILDINGS WILL BE IN USE

Musical Festival Competitions Will Be Held Here Next Week

Four buildings will be used for the Musical festival, opening Tuesday, April 16, the committee announces. The festival committee will have its headquarters at the Metropolitan United Church, First Baptist Church and the City Temple Hall. The New Thought Temple, where the election will be adjudicated, will be in use from Tuesday to Thursday. The High School, where the classes in folk dancing will be judged, will be used on Friday afternoon and all day Saturday.

The final evening concert will be given at the Royal Victoria Theatre. George Watson, president of the festival association, and Davis Morgan, festival director, and the other members of the executive have been busy making the final arrangements for the festival, which has every indication of being a huge success in every way. Membership tickets are on sale at Fletcher Bros., where the trophies are on exhibition, Davis and King's and the Willis Piano Co.

Those having membership cards will be able to attend the evening concert at half price. The single exception will be the final concert at the Royal Theatre on Saturday night.

The organ recitals at the Metropolitan United Church by Prof. Warren Allen, will attract many who may not be able to attend the day sessions of the festival. Mr. Allen is a very fine musician, having studied organ and piano with Widor in Paris and Rudolph Ganz in Berlin, and is a brilliant concert organist. His recitals will be from 7:30 to 8 o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

ORGAN RECITALS TO BE FEATURED

Prof. Warren D. Allen Will Play Prior to Music Festival Concerts

For the benefit of those who have not heretofore been interested or in touch with musical festival arrangements, officials in charge explain that all of the places where the competitions are held are being used at the same time. All of the election classes will be heard on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The folk dancing competitions will take place on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning and evening at the High School.

As a feature of the festival, Professor Warren D. Allen, adjudicator in piano and organ classes, will give a recital every evening at the Metropolitan United Church from 7:30 to 8, just before the concert arranged by the festival committee. Mr. Allen is organist and professor of music at Leland Stanford University and is a brilliant concert organist. He has studied with Rudolph Ganz and Von Flietzel in Berlin and has given many recitals in the United States. Mr. Allen also studied under Ch. M. Widor in Paris.

These organ recitals will stimulate the sale of membership tickets, which may be obtained at Davis & King's, Fletcher Bros. and Willis Piano Co. They will also be on sale at all the buildings used during the festival. The final concert of the festival will be held at the Royal Victoria Theatre. The date of the ticket sale for this concert will be announced later.

"School Zone" Signs Mooted

Placing of signs indicating "School Zones" instead of the present "Danger School Children" boards was considered by the Oak Bay Council last night following a communication from the Automobile Club of British Columbia in which it was stated the club had been instrumental recently in the amendment of the Motor Vehicle Act to provide for the placing of signs to warn motorists when they were traveling in a school zone.

WHITNEY LETTER

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

New York, April 12.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

GOING HIGHER
It is assumed that there will be no change in the redoubtable rate, and likewise assumed that brokers' loans will show another substantial reduction. These two favorable factors, combined with the prospect of lower call money rates, will bring additional advance in to-day's market. This current rally is going to develop into something more than simply a two-day move. It should, at a minimum, carry over into next week and the possibilities exist that before it is completed we shall have both rail and industrial advances established at the highest points which have been witnessed since the market toppled in mid-March and had its drastic reaction. Technical position is still exceptionally good. Continue to buy stocks which have been recommended here.

COMMENT
Central Alloy Steel can be added to the list of steel stocks to be bought, particularly while it is below 160 a share. High prices for copper are bringing exceptional demand for substitutes and, particularly for the various alloy steels. Current earnings are approximately 50 per cent ahead of the corresponding period of last year, when 82.24 a share was shown. What was not shown was that an amount equal to $1.65 a share was charged against earnings for new plant and equipment, and an amount equal to $5.09 a share for depreciation and maintenance. In addition, earnings received a heavy charge for the amortization of patents purchased from the Krupp, the stock is cheap and well worth buying.

Texas Gulf Sulphur advanced to within a quarter of a point of its best price of the year, clearing the way for the recording of a new record figure in to-day's market. Continue to buy the stock in the low eighties.

We now have a new record for American Can and a new top for Yellow Truck. Neither price, however, has reached the price sufficiently close to where they will be selling in the near future to make it advisable to take profits. Even at current figures the stocks are a purchase for additional substantial advance.

Continue the purchase of Montgomery Ward while its purchase can be made below 120. U. S. Industrial Alcohol below 150. Consolidated Gas below 105 and American Telephone and Telegraph any place below 225. This latter issue will in the near future be split three for one. This undoubtedly will be denied, but it will, nevertheless, be done.

Copper stocks are going higher, particularly Kennecott, Anaconda and Ingot, and will be joined by International Nickel.

We now have the announcement of the first advance in gasoline prices. There will be more, as well as advances in crude oil. Continue to buy Standard Oil of California, Standard Oil of New Jersey and New York.

Expect a new record for United States Steel this week and continue to advise against taking profits.

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

"There is no premium," answered Beatrice. "Long ago she used to make things for mother. She made the whole of her troussau, and she has often been at Linoria. She exaggerates the kindness shown to her there, and this is her way of acknowledging it." Beatrice's intelligence, travelling quickly, decided that the truth, or at least a judicious fragment of it, would be the most efficient method of putting a check on her stepmother's chatter. But instantly that lady's imagination darted into a new groove, a sordid groove, in which it could move very freely.

"Of course she's got something out of it. She'll let people know that Miss Heron is in her employment. Some of these stuck-up people who don't think we're good enough for them now were down on our luck, will crowd in out of curiosity to see you and glory in your downcomer! Oh, I know, cats, every one of them! I've never seen this Madame Theodore you're so keen on, but I could bet my bottom dollar as the Americans say, that she sees where she's going to make a bit out of you. She'll exploit you my dear, but so long as you know and don't care I suppose it's all right."

Ida, both astonished and rather perplexed, regarded her sister's steadfast face with uncertain yet eager eyes.

It was so far the most astounding thing that had happened in her life, far more significant than Wally's departure for New Zealand, or even than the tragic circumstances of the last week. For she was fully aware of Beatrice's pride of race, that it was woven in every fibre of her being; that she never forgot it for a moment; that their low estate had been informed and in a measure uplifted by it. Certain things they must not, could not, do because of the name they bore. And to hear her sitting there calmly announcing her intention of going into business, of apprenticing herself to Madame Theodore, surely sounded the knell of a regime that could never more be re-assuited. Both of them had already proved the calibre of the social life of their time, and the peculiar inexorable flavor of Edinburgh pride.

Certain things could not be done by certain people because they never had diated problem of existence as affecting the next few weeks at least.

They did not even know whether the law, staying its hand for a brief space out of compassion for them as innocent victims of the folly of others, might not even on the morrow step in and strip them of all they possessed, leaving them without a roof to cover them. Her eyes lost a trifle of their steadiness as she turned to meet her stepmother's angry glare.

"We shall have to go into things immediately, Lotta; to-morrow we shall have to find a respectable lawyer. Mr. O'Brien or the Doctor will most likely know one. Perhaps you know one. (Did you have anything to do with lawyers before you married father?)"

It was a question, which caused an odd flush to spring to Lotta's cheek. As a matter of fact she had had some commerce with lawyers in the year previous to her marriage with Mr. Heron and had received from a recalcitrant suitor a substantial sum as satisfaction for a broken promise of marriage. "I don't know anybody—find one. What I'm afraid of, and fully expecting, is that they'll sell us up and leave us without a cent to sit on, or a bed to lie on. We may have to face the worst yet."

"If we have to, we can find lodgings," said Beatrice, her courage rising with the mountains of difficulty ahead.

"Lodgings! I hope you'll like 'em when you get 'em. If I have to turn out again and earn my living, I'll be pretty fed up. I can tell you. I was a fool to marry as I did—thought it was a noble family that would be above that sort of thing—well, the sort of thing that has just been shown up."

Beatrice rose, her face flushing deeply.

"I can't sit here, Lotta, and hear you speaking like that. You know that father had nothing to do with Mr. Brodie's defections."

"He ought to have known about them and prevented them," snapped Lotta, taking the same line as Mrs. Brodie without knowing it. "I've patience with that highfalutin way of living as if life was a fairy tale, removed from being a fairy tale, the best years of a woman's life buried in this hole and what's to become of me? You'll marry, if you weren't so stuck-up and stand-offish; you could make a good marriage and set the pendulum swinging the other way. But I've lost the best years and all my chances and I want to know what you're going to do to me. I don't hear either of you suggesting that you'll do your best to give me a comfortable living and make me feel it as little as possible. That's duty if you like, spelled with a big 'D'."

Beatrice turned her haunted eyes on her sister's face. She had really not lost her self-respect, but she was a stepmother, who, not yet forty, stood and well and in some directions capable, might be expected to regard herself as self-sufficient. There was nothing encouraging in Ida's expression.

"I think Lotta's quite right, Bee. We must think up something that will include and help her. I wonder what I could do? If only father would let me go to learn shorthand and type-writing when I wanted to last year, I might have been able to earn a good salary now."

"You'll always get on, kid," said Lotta, rather afraid of the change in Beatrice's expression, that she had said a little too much. "Your face will tell your fortune, don't worry. I'll stand by you."

Beatrice's thoughts, still travelling rapidly though in an entirely new channel, focused themselves on her stepmother's immediate future. "I will of course do my very best, we both will, Lotta, but you see for yourself I'm not an expert. It will take time to get a home together. One can't earn money unless one has some equivalent to offer. Madame Theodore as good as told me she should begin to earn quickly. She does not think that is—she does think that I have the qualities to make a successful business woman. Would it not be possible for you to take a situation as housekeeper for a time at least, until we turn round?"

"Thank you for nothing, the prospect does not allure," said Lotta a trifle softly.

Perhaps after things are looked into there may be room for you to live quietly, or at least until you have time to look round," she said with a tired, desperate note in her voice. "I don't really think we shall get any further discussing things to-night. Until we have had the lawyer in and get everything cleared up, we are just wandering round and getting nowhere. I think I'll go to bed. I've had a tiring day and I'm not in the mood to talk any further."

been done, and the few venturesome souls, who for some reason, or another, defied the conventions which bound the whole crazy fabric together, were just dropped out, no more and no less, just dropped out, the ranks closing over the gaps and continuing to present the same impenetrable front.

Beatrice's grave lips were wooed into a smile by the blank astonishment pictured on Ida's rather childish face. "Don't look as if the end of the world had come, Baby," she said, using the pet name that had stuck to her younger sister.

"Well, it has, the end of our world, you know it has, Bee. I just can't believe it. Will you really go to that place and cut out frocks and trim hats for other people, all kinds of people and have them order you about and treat you as if you were an upper servant?"

"They won't do that, Baby, not if I can help it."

"You won't be able to help it. I've seen them at it. In the old, old days before the deluge we did it ourselves."

"I think not. Mother was different. It is to her I owe the bit of good fortune which has come to me to-day."

"I don't see much good fortune about it. I mean how is it going to help us in our present need? If you've not paid a premium she'll expect you to work at least a year for nothing. I know the breed, slave drivers and profiteers, every one of them. I hope you made a hard-and-fast bargain with her."

"I didn't make any bargain," answered Beatrice calmly.

"The more fool you! That's as like the Harrow, to drift along treating everybody as if they were angels, instead of the devil's most of them. It's the strain that has brought you down to the dust and haunched me into this mess. Now we are on the subject of the future, while you've been out sorting up a billet for yourself, will you kindly tell me what's in store for the kid and me?"

LET MILTON CLEAN YOUR FALSE TEETH FOR YOU

Get some Milton from your nearest dealer (35¢, 65¢ or $1 a bottle) and just try it for cleaning your false teeth. You'll hardly believe it possible—the way it gets rid of all food-specks, 'film', grease and tarnish without brushing and without any injury whatever to the denture. Ask your dentist. And, of course, it's death to all germs.

Overnight. If you take out your plate at night, add half-a-teaspoonful of Milton to the glass of cup of cold water in which you leave it. In the morning rinse it in clean cold water. Or in the Morning. If you sleep with your false teeth in, put them, on rising, into a glass containing equal parts of Milton and warm water (just enough fluid to cover the plate). When you are dressed, take them out, rinse and wipe.

Terrier Feeds Baby Rats, Stealing Food

For them. Patrick McNally, who used to be an assistant foreman in the office of the New York City Department of Water Supply at 121st Street and Sylvan Place, had a fox terrier which had quite a reputation as a "ratter."

In the same building worked Maurice Powers, a clerk in the Department of Highways. Powers was accustomed to take his luncheon to the office in a bag, placing it in a drawer until he was ready to eat it. But for two days in succession it disappeared.

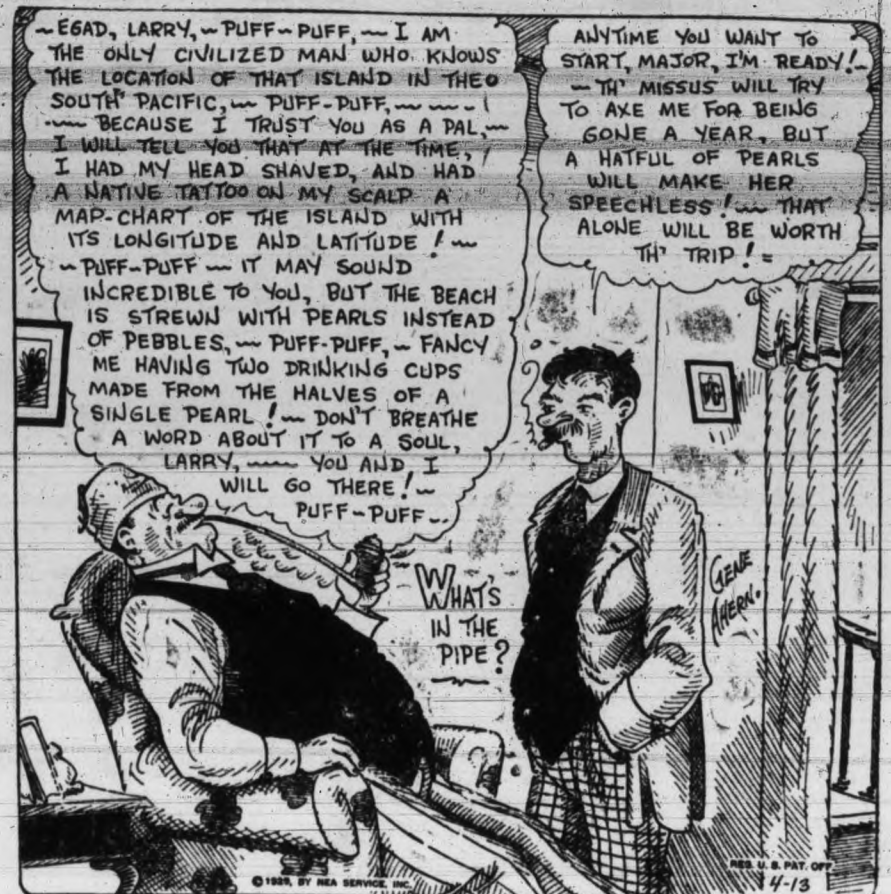

The third day, keeping a watch, he saw Patrick McNally's terrier, which was named Nellie, purloin the sack and run away. He followed her and witnessed an unusual thing. Nellie proceeded to the department stables, went to an empty stall, tore the sack apart and emptied the food through a knot-hole in the floor.

Powers called the other clerks. They then lifted the board containing the hole and discovered a family of little rats eating away at the food Nellie had left.

Why had the terrier taken them the food? The clerks concluded she had killed the parents of the little family and was sorry for the orphan.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KINCK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

While Clowdy held the watering can tipped over, the water slowly ran out of the spout and traveled quickly to the earth below. Then Clowdy cried, "Oh, that is mean. For rainstorms folks are never keen. Why you end water down on them I surely do not know."

Wee Scouty smiled, and calmly said, "Oh, don't mind him. Just go ahead. A lot of folks will figure that this rain is just good luck. You see, it falls on flowers and things and to them brand new life it brings. Just think of all the good 'twill do the sprouting garden truck."

Just then they heard a nearby groan. "Hey, let the watering can alone. I am the one who handles that. Be on your merry way. But, wait a minute! If you're good, and only do the things you should, I'll change my mind and be real kind and gladly let you stay."

The Tines looked up. What they saw, real quickly filled them all with awe. Before them stood a monstrous man, as fat as he could be. "Now, don't be scared at what you've spied. I am the Thunder Man," he cried. The Tines were pleased with him and laughed. "Ha, ha, he, he!"

"We're glad to meet you," Scouty said, "but tell us, what's that on your head? If it's the sort of hat you wear, I think it's rather cute." The man looked up and said, "Oh, that? Oh, my, no, it is not a hat. It's there to keep rain off my head. It's just a bumber-shoot."

And then he told the happy bunch, "Now, listen here. I have a hunch that I can entertain you all in manner that is grand. You see, I rule the rain clouds here, and plan the weather, dark or clear. I'll take you all upon a trip clear through my Thunderland."

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, APRIL 13, 1929
Benefic aspects dominate to-day, according to astrology, which finds influences strong that favor speculation and salesmanship.

The day is fairly fortunate for those who hold the reins of any sort of power, although they may arouse envy.
Under this direction of the stars the public mind is likely to be well disposed toward men in political office. The President of the United States is subject to the best influences of the stars.
For many who are quick-tempered the thirteenth of the month may be unlucky, for there is a plan making for quarrels and dissensions that are serious.
Legislators may be unusually sensitive to the disturbing forces liberated under this configuration and they should be careful to refrain from arguments or bitter speeches.
There is a sign read as presaging many divorces as well as marriages in the coming Summer.
Among the reform movements foretold by the seers will be one that seeks to educate parents regarding their responsibilities. Sensational revelations uncovering neglect through the results of the divorce courts are forecast.

Changes in leadership are predicted for the British Government, which will make new history that is sensational, the seers prophesied.
Fluctuations in the stock market may be sharp, the seers prophesied, but the rising tendency will prevail.
New systems of business co-operation helpful to persons of small capital are forecast.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the luxury of journeys and much work in the coming year which should be prosperous. Children born on this day probably will be fine physically as well as brilliant mentally. The subjects of this sign usually enjoy sports. They prosper marvelously and generally marry happily.

Uncle Wiggly's Alarm Clock

Copyright, 1929, By McClure Newspaper Syndicate
By HOWARD E. GARIS

"Look here, my dear!" Uncle Wiggly's wife called to him one morning as he was hopping out to the hollow stump bungalow to go fishing. "You simply will have to do something about it!"

"About what, my love?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "Do you mean my pink nose? Why, I can't help it because it twinkles."

"Oh, I'm not talking about your nose," laughed Mrs. Longears. "I am speaking of the alarm clock. Something is wrong with it."

"Won't it wash its hands or face?" asked Uncle Wiggly in a low voice. "Surely that is very wrong. But perhaps if you speak kindly—"

"Nonsense!" interrupted the rabbit lady. "You know the alarm clock doesn't need to wash its hands or face. I am speaking of its bell. It rings at the wrong time. More than once Nurse Jane or I have thought the alarm clock bell, jingling at the wrong time, was the front door bell. And when we go there—"

"The cupboard was bare!" chuckled Uncle Wiggly, speaking like Old Mother Hubbard.

"Oh, will you be sensible!" cried Mrs. Longears. "What I mean is that the alarm clock bell rings when it ought not to. Instead of going off early in the morning to awaken Nurse Jane, she will get your breakfast, the clock goes off at 10, or maybe 12. And, as I said, half the time it sounds like the door bell. You should take the alarm clock to the shoemaker's and have it fixed!"

"Very well, my dear, I will—to-morrow—after I come back from looking for adventure," promised the rabbit and away he hopped out of his bungalow, over the fields and through the woods.

Uncle Wiggly had a nice adventure of finding a new dandelion plant growing beside a brook and he took it up to his room, where he was in the tin can that Taddy, the little baby frog, once swam in. I mean Uncle Wiggly took up the dandelion flower, not the brook.

"Oh, thank you so much!" said Mrs. Longears when her husband hopped home with the dandelion. "It is lovely! But I wish you could get the old alarm clock fixed. It goes again and we thought it was a bell."

"I'll get it fixed to-morrow," promised the rabbit gentleman.

That night, very late, there was the sudden ringing of a bell in the hollow stump bungalow. Uncle Wiggly awakened.

"I wonder who is at the door this late?" he said as he slid down the bunter railing.

"It's the alarm clock, very likely," said Mrs. Longears. And so it was.
